Dear Member,

Executives in Residence Program Enrollment Open

The AESAs Executives in Residence Program is an opportunity for prospective ESA CEOs to have access to a variety of leadership experiences with a strong mentor component. The program operates for a full year (July 1 through June 30) and uses a cohort model providing national networking and communication.

If you have prospective ESA CEOs on your staff, please bring this opportunity to their attention. Full details, including a program description and application forms are available on line at www.aesas.us. Applications are due on or before June 1, 2012.

If your ESA is interested in serving as a host site for an Executive in Residence, please review the materials online and complete the Host Site Application.

Registration Is Now Open For 2012 Summer CEO Event

We are happy to announce that the 2012 AESAs Summer CEO Conference, sponsored by the AESA Foundation, will be held July 23-26 at the Grove Hotel in Boise, Idaho. Please take a few moments to check out the brochure and online registration at www.aesa.us. This year's conference theme is Education 2.0: How ESAs are Influencing the Next Generation of American Education. We not only provide you with information as to what ESAs are doing in educational transformation, but we will also share the strategies, skills and staffing that they are using to be effective in this important work.

The Grove Hotel is a AAA four diamond property in Downtown Boise. In the immediate area of the hotel are many fine restaurants and over 25 miles of paths that connect the five major parks of the city. Golf courses, watersports on the Boise River and a variety of other recreational aspects are yours to enjoy. We look forward to having you with us in Boise! Should you have questions, please contact Peter Young at pyoung@aes.us or call him at 203-481-4063.

Announcing AESA & McREL Partnership

McREL is a non-profit organization that has a rich history of developing relationships with educational service agencies (ESAs) nationwide to improve educator effectiveness and increase student achievement - from EIRC in New Jersey to Region IV in Texas to the Riverside County Office of Education in California, and many agencies in between. Through these partnerships, thousands of educators have benefited from high-quality, research-based professional development offered by ESAs.

Partnering with McREL can help you expand your portfolio of offerings with proven solutions and popular professional development programs that can meet constituent needs and generate new revenue streams for your agency.
