Dear Member,

January 28th - School Safety & Violence Prevention Course

Nova Southeastern University's School Safety and Violence Prevention Program invites you to enroll in its next School Safety & Violence Prevention Course "Mitigation and Prevention".

- Next 8-week class begins January 28 - March 31, 2013
- Appropriate for administrators, teachers and staff
- Entirely on-line; no travel or per diem expenses
- Offered by Nova Southeastern University's Abraham S. Fischler School of Education, the sixth largest not-for-profit accredited university in the country
- Courses can be taken as professional development (non-credit, $500) or for three Master's degree credits ($450 per credit).
- We can establish any number of cohorts and customize a timeline for the delivery of the courses that meets your schools/districts' needs
- Contact John Chistolini at jc1917@nova.edu or call 617-834-8362 and the course enrollment webpage and directions will be emailed to you.
- Course and certificate information available at:
