Meeting Cancellation Notice –

Our friends from Region 4 ESC, Houston, Texas annually hold their Reengineering Academy the first week in February. Psychological Software Solutions, Inc. (PSS) AESA Business Partner Announcement

PSS announces our Business Partnership with the Association of Educational Service Agencies (AESA). The partnership will afford Service Agencies the ability to provide Review360™ to their member districts; make available expanded training, consulting and implementation opportunities, and supply member districts with comprehensive monitoring data and solutions for special needs, bullying and behavioral disorder issues.

Our flagship product, Review360™ is a web-based software application that addresses two of the biggest issues in the K-12 education market; the management and monitoring of students with behavioral problems and low incidence disabilities. The platform delivers scalable and comprehensive behavior improvement solutions for schools with research-based best practices to systemically improve student behavior, school climate and learning. Included is tiered content for classroom management, behavior intervention strategies, implementation support materials, tiered progress monitoring (incident tracking, universal screening for behavior, behavior assessment tools), and a behavioral intelligence system that facilitates plan management.

Research supports positive results with the implementation of Review360™. Districts have reduced expenditures on students with behavioral problems, saved teachers time, lowered the number of behavioral problems in the classroom and decreased the number of suspensions. The system's reporting features allow administrators dashboard monitoring of day-to-day student activities and provides instant access to student data to protect from costly litigation.
