Dear Member,

---

Member Request for Information

One of our members has requested help in locating a board policy on leasing classrooms or buildings for special education classes and services. If you have such a policy, would you be willing to share this? Please respond to Dr. David Heimbecker at scec101@comcast.net.

Thanks for your Contacts on Legislative Issues

We asked that you share your stories about the impact of sequestration with members of Congress - thanks to a number of you doing that, we are hearing that the messages are getting through. If you haven't had a chance to do that yet, please share what would happen to the children in your region, if there were sequestration. Legislators like to share "stories from back home" to make their point. Keep up the good work!

School Safety Help

We were requested to share again the contact for help with school safety related issues. One of our business partners, Marsden, has a division that does only safety issues - American Security. If you have a need for this service, check them out and see if they can help you. <http://www.americansecuritycorp.com>.

New CEO Orientation to Begin Soon

AESA is continuing its work to help new or newer CEOs through professional development. In cooperation with PKR, Susan Leddick, and other ESA leadership from around the country, the second of these orientations will be held in a couple of weeks. This process is an extension of the Executives in Residence Program offered through AESA, to help potential ESA CEOs prepare for this unique role. AESA is committed to helping ESA leadership to be successful in their positions. If you are or know of someone who may benefit from this type of professional development, or who wants to expand their network, drop us a note - we will get things lined up for upcoming events.
