WHY PARTNER WITH AESA?

AESA opens the door to one of the most influential education networks in the nation. With 500 Educational Service Agencies (ESAs) employing more than 200,000 professionals across 40 states, AESA connects you directly to the people and organizations shaping the future of education.

Through our network, your organization can reach:

- ✓ 11,700 public school districts — serving 79% of districts nationwide
- ✓ 22,710 private schools — representing 83% of private education institutions
- ✓ Over 4 million educators and school employees — including 2.1 million certified teachers
- ✓ More than 40 million students — both public and private

From superintendents and principals to technology directors, instructional leaders, and support staff, AESA's community encompasses every corner of the education ecosystem.

When you partner with AESA, you're not just connecting with schools — you're joining a national movement of innovation, collaboration, and impact.

Together, we can strengthen education for every learner.

BENEFITS OF PARTNERING WITH AESA

Partnering with AESA connects your organization directly to the leaders shaping education nationwide. Educational Service Agencies (ESAs) work closely with superintendents and key district decision-makers, providing unmatched insight into the needs of public, private, and parochial schools across the country.

AESA ensures that schools have access to the most innovative and effective products and services—and through our Business Partnership Program, your company can be part of that mission.

Engage with influential education leaders, showcase your expertise, and expand your brand visibility through AESA's business and sponsorship opportunities.

No other national organization offers this level of access, connection, and impact.
