

2026-27 Program Overview

Leading with Courage, Influencing with Integrity, and Speaking with Power

The Academy for Women Leaders is a year-long leadership development experience designed to support women leaders in Educational Service Agencies (ESAs) as they strengthen their courage, influence, and communication in service of more purposeful, powerful leadership. Through a blend of immersive retreats, virtual learning sessions, and relationship-building opportunities, participants engage in reflection, skill-building, storytelling, and real-world application around themes such as leading with courage, influencing with integrity, speaking with power, and integrating these capacities in complex leadership contexts. The program is designed to help women deepen self-awareness, expand their leadership presence, build trusted networks, and lead with greater clarity, confidence, and impact across their organizations and the ESA field.

Facilitators: Jessica Huizenga and Sheila King
