

Teach abroad. Expand your classroom...

Bring the experience back home!

Looking for a meaningful way to spend part of your summer? This two-week teaching program in China offers U.S. public school educators the opportunity to:

- Teach overseas in Chinese public or private schools
- Gain hands-on international classroom experience
- Engage in meaningful cultural exchange
- Bring global perspectives back to your students, colleagues, and school community
- And earn compensation while doing it

This opportunity, organized by AESA Global in partnership with America's educational service agencies, invites passionate educators to work with motivated Chinese students through engaging, project-based learning.
