Job Central - Posting your Openings on the AESAs Website

AESA has provided a place for you to post job openings in your ESA or even member school districts. If you would like to take advantage of this free offering - click here.

Executive in Residence - Applications are Now Open

Do you have key staff that you would like to prepare for an ESA CEO position? Would you like to have key staff learn about the administrative operations of other ESAs across the country? If you answered yes to any of these questions, please consider the AESAs Executives in Residence Program, a year-long program of professional development for ESA leaders. This program, now soliciting its thirteenth cohort, has provided learning opportunities for many individuals who now are in ESA CEO positions. Applications are due by May 15, 2016. Take a look at the BROCHURE and the APPLICATION FOR ADMISSION. There are also opportunities for your ESA to serve as a host agency for an Executive in Residence. For the host agency application form, please click HOST AGENCY. For this and more information, please go to the AESAs website (www.aesa.us) or directly to the Executive-in-Residence web page.

AESA Marketplace - A place for you to offer your services or see what others have to share - Check it Out

The AESA Marketplace is a place for our members to do ESA to ESA business, a place to promote products and services developed by and for ESAs. You can share successful programs or services or sell services and programs to each other. There is no charge for member ESAs to utilize the AESA Marketplace.

To access this service, please complete this form and submit to info@aesa.us. Postings will be for 6 months at a time with possibility for extension. AESA reserves the right to determine postings and control of the Marketplace for the benefit of our members.

AESA Annual Conference - November 30th- December 3rd - Savannah, GA

Plans are developing for our annual conference - and the 40th anniversary of the organization! The planning team is hard at work and expect that the brochures should go out around May 1st. There are some new things you will find at this year's conference as well - Pre-con's will be added as part of the event and you will find some new and exciting changes within the breakouts. Mark your calendars and watch for the announcement coming soon. The Call for Presentations are now open until May 9th - take a look.
